

WELCOME TO THE MOOR FALMOUTH

THE SEA MADE TRADE, TRADE MADE FALMOUTH

Welcome to Falmouth, one of the most vibrant coastal destinations in the south west of England and Cornwall's university town: it is a thriving, working port with centuries of maritime history and heritage, tall tales and salty stories. Discover award-winning beaches, historic opeways and quays, and colourful parks and gardens. Explore a bustling centre with a charming mix of shops from independent outlets and art galleries to well-known high street names, as well as an abundance of cafés, pubs and restaurants – all set against a wonderful coastal backdrop.

Did you know?

Falmouth has the third largest natural deep-water harbour in the world and the deepest in Western Europe

FALMOUTH FOR NEWS

Between 1689 and 1851, Falmouth Packet ships carried mail and messages to and from Britain's allies and colonies around the globe, making Falmouth the information hub of the British Empire and second only to London for knowing the news of the day.

FALMOUTH FOR COAST

Falmouth's celebrated beaches and coastline are surrounded by Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty and can be reached by the famous South West Coast Path, which runs through the town.

FALMOUTH FOR CREATIVITY

As one of the region's creative hubs, students from Falmouth University rub shoulders with the multi-award winning Falmouth Art Gallery and the vibrant Poly Arts Centre. Falmouth is also home to leading design agencies and galleries of all types.

For all things Falmouth:

www.falmouth.co.uk

F Falmouth - Spirit of the Sea
#LoveFalmouth

Great Walks

Coast to quaysides, gardens to beaches, Falmouth has a superb variety of walks for all.

Look out for colourful finger signposts and interpretation boards that aim to assist your visit to Falmouth and that seek to tell just a small part of the intriguing Falmouth story.

Useful Numbers
Falmouth Coastguard 01326 317575
Falmouth RNLI 01326 318375
Police 101 [non emergency]
Minor Injuries Unit 01326 434739
Treliske Hospital ED 01872 250000
Falmouth Town Council 01326 315559
NHS Dental Helpline 01872 354375

Visitor Information Centre located on Prince of Wales Pier TR11 3DF
01326 313394

Toilets

POW Pier, Grove Place, Gyllyngvase Beach, Castle Beach, Kimberley Park, Swanpool Beach

Transport

Falmouth has 3 train stations - Penmere, Falmouth Town and Falmouth Docks

Tripper boats from Prince of Wales Pier and Custom House Quay

Falmouth's bus terminus located on The Moor

Post Office located at Market Strand

FUNDED BY
FALMOUTH
Business Improvement District (BID)

the spirit of the sea

The Moor Market before the construction of the Municipal Buildings 1894 Credit: The Poly

WELCOME TO DISCOVERY QUAY/ EVENTS SQUARE FALMOUTH

FALMOUTH FOR ORDERS

Welcome to Falmouth, one of the most vibrant coastal destinations in the south west of England and Cornwall's university town: it is a thriving, working port with centuries of maritime history and heritage, tall tales and salty stories. Discover award-winning beaches, historic opeways and quays, and colourful parks and gardens. Explore a bustling centre with a charming mix of shops from independent outlets and art galleries to well-known high street names, as well as an abundance of cafés, pubs and restaurants – all set against a wonderful coastal backdrop.

Did you know?

We're not alone! There are 13 other Falmouths, located in Jamaica, Antigua, Tasmania, Canada and nine in the United States

FALMOUTH FOR NEWS

Between 1689 and 1851, Falmouth Packet ships carried mail and messages to and from Britain's allies and colonies around the globe, making Falmouth the information hub of the British Empire and second only to London for knowing the news of the day.

FALMOUTH FOR COAST

Falmouth's celebrated beaches and coastline are surrounded by Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty and can be reached by the famous South West Coast Path, which runs through the town.

FALMOUTH FOR CREATIVITY

As one of the region's creative hubs, students from Falmouth University rub shoulders with the multi-award winning Falmouth Art Gallery and the vibrant Poly Arts Centre. Falmouth is also home to leading design agencies and galleries of all types.

For all things Falmouth:

www.falmouth.co.uk

F Falmouth - Spirit of the Sea
#LoveFalmouth

Great Walks

Coast to quaysides, gardens to beaches, Falmouth has a superb variety of walks for all.

Look out for colourful finger signposts and interpretation boards that aim to assist your visit to Falmouth and that seek to tell just a small part of the intriguing Falmouth story.

Useful Numbers
Falmouth Coastguard 01326 317575
Falmouth RNLI 01326 318375
Police 101 [non emergency]
Minor Injuries Unit 01326 434739
Treliske Hospital ED 01872 250000
Falmouth Town Council 01326 315559
NHS Dental Helpline 01872 354375

Visitor Information Centre located on Prince of Wales Pier TR11 3DF
01326 313394

Toilets

POW Pier, Grove Place, Gyllyngvase Beach, Castle Beach, Kimberley Park, Swanpool Beach

Transport

Falmouth has 3 train stations - Penmere, Falmouth Town and Falmouth Docks

Tripper boats from Prince of Wales Pier and Custom House Quay

Falmouth's bus terminus located on The Moor

Post Office located at Market Strand

FUNDED BY
FALMOUTH
Business Improvement District (BID)

the spirit of the sea

The 'Cutty Sark' moored off Trefusis circa 1930 Credit: The Poly

WELCOME TO GYLLYNGVASE BEACH FALMOUTH

FALMOUTH FOR BEACHES

Welcome to Falmouth, one of the most vibrant coastal destinations in the south west of England and Cornwall's university town: it is a thriving, working port with centuries of maritime history and heritage, tall tales and salty stories. Discover award-winning beaches, historic opeways and quays, and colourful parks and gardens. Explore a bustling centre with a charming mix of shops from independent outlets and art galleries to well-known high street names, as well as an abundance of cafés, pubs and restaurants – all set against a wonderful coastal backdrop.

Did you know?

Charles Darwin landed at Falmouth from HMS Beagle on the 2nd October 1831 after their epic scientific journey that was to change the course of history.

FALMOUTH FOR NEWS

Between 1689 and 1851, Falmouth Packet ships carried mail and messages to and from Britain's allies and colonies around the globe, making Falmouth the information hub of the British Empire and second only to London for knowing the news of the day.

FALMOUTH FOR COAST

Falmouth's celebrated beaches and coastline are surrounded by Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty and can be reached by the famous South West Coast Path, which runs through the town.

FALMOUTH FOR CREATIVITY

As one of the region's creative hubs, students from Falmouth University rub shoulders with the multi-award winning Falmouth Art Gallery and the vibrant Poly Arts Centre. Falmouth is also home to leading design agencies and galleries of all types.

For all things Falmouth:

www.falmouth.co.uk

F Falmouth - Spirit of the Sea
#LoveFalmouth

Great Walks

Coast to quaysides, gardens to beaches, Falmouth has a superb variety of walks for all.

Look out for colourful finger signposts and interpretation boards that aim to assist your visit to Falmouth and that seek to tell just a small part of the intriguing Falmouth story.

Visitor Information Centre located on Prince of Wales Pier TR11 3DF
01326 313394

Toilets

POW Pier, Grove Place, Gyllyngvase Beach, Castle Beach, Kimberley Park, Swanpool Beach

Transport

Falmouth has 3 train stations - Penmere, Falmouth Town and Falmouth Docks

Tripper boats from Prince of Wales Pier and Custom House Quay

Falmouth's bus terminus located on The Moor

Post Office located at Market Strand

Useful Numbers
Falmouth Coastguard 01326 317575
Falmouth RNLI 01326 318375
Police 101 [non emergency]
Minor Injuries Unit 01326 434739
Treliske Hospital ED 01872 250000
Falmouth Town Council 01326 315559
NHS Dental Helpline 01872 354375

FUNDED BY
FALMOUTH
Business Improvement District (BID)

the spirit of the sea

Donkeys on Gyllyngvase Beach 1907 Credit: The Poly

